THE NEW ERA OF INTERGENERATIONAL EDUCATION ENVIRONMENTS

The Project

Teachers are flexible by nature. They are regularly called upon to deal with differentiation in the class and cater for unusual teaching scenarios for which there is no preparation. With the concept of lifelong learning being a hot topic, this Erasmus+ project aims to upskill teachers to deal with more senior learners. It's called Best Trane.

Best Trane - Best Practices for Training in adults non-formal education project aims at providing best practices to trainers in order to prepare them to teach in intergenerational environments and to motivate older learners to take part in non-formal education activities.

We aim to provide operational tools and innovative training models to educators in non-formal centers, through the collection of information, examples of existing good practices on working with older people and involving them in their centers.

The project will focus on the following objectives:

- To provide examples of best practices in adult non-formal education to professional trainers,
- To increase the knowledge of trainers in non-formal education about seniors' needs and expectations,
- To promote intergenerational dynamics.

The partners joined the Kick-Off Meeting of the Best Trane project on 15-10-20 organised by Solution: Solidarité & Inclusion.

The next meeting will be organised by CSI Cyprus in July 2021.
